

Juicing Masterclass

Learn about juicing's health benefits and make your very own energising juice

Led by a knowledgeable and engaging industry professional, our Juicing Masterclasses are a fun, interactive experience that everyone can get involved with.

Whether your guests are local or dispersed around the UK, our event format can be tweaked exactly to your needs for the very best experience possible.

As well as absorbing the host's expertise and top tips, guests will have the opportunity to create their own refreshing juice with instruction and support from our expert guiding them through the whole process.

Guests will receive their Juicing Masterclass event pack in a fully branded package packed by us and delivered to their door via our personalised MemMail service. To find out more about what this includes, keep reading.

Event Host

A trained specialist will guide you through making your very own juice with the ingredients in your MemMail pack.

They will share their insight and advice into how to work towards vibrant health and vitality, and leave you feeling inspired, motivated and empowered to achieve your health goals.

MemMail

Our sending service, MemMail, is the perfect way to feature your company branding and personalise the event to each of your guests.

- We source and pack everything your guests need to take part, from the juice making equipment to the necessary ingredients. We also include a handwritten note with your message.
- The items are packed in a MemMail gift box with brand-coloured tissue paper and filling and sealed with your brand logo.
